All three of Savalife's emergency drug kits feature color-coded compartments with a corresponding color-coded instruction manual and a color-coded reference guide pairing symptoms with treatments. And because they all come in compact, durable bright blue cases, they're easy to find quickly in the event of an emergency.

Refills: Sign Up and Save!

All drugs expire. When they do, they lose potency and no longer meet standards for emergency preparedness. When you subscribe to Savalife's Automatic Emergency Drug Refill Program, we monitor expiration dates and automatically ship replacement drugs when you need them, ensuring that you're always prepared and always in compliance.

PLUS:
Sign up for monthly refill subscription plan and receive a FREE M100 or M1000 Drug Kit.

Tabs vs. Spray

Nitroglycerin is prescribed to prevent and treat chest pain, or angina. Both of Savalife's M100 kits contain nitroglycerin: the M100NT in tablet form and the M100NS in spray form. What's the difference? Although tabs and sprays contain similar doses and are equally effective at treating angina, tabs are typically more affordable and sprays typically easier to administer.

Claim Your Free Gift!

When you purchase either the M100NT or the M100NS drug kit, you'll receive a free $25 gift card.
